MESSAGE TO READERS

This Mental Health Resource Guide is intended to provide information about mental health programs in Cumberland County, New Jersey and nearby communities. Every attempt has been made to ensure that the published information is current and accurate at the time of printing. However, service providers and locations do change over time, so it is possible that a reference to a program included here may no longer be available.

This Resource Guide consolidates resource information for Cumberland County residents who deal with mental health and addiction issues. This directory is for consumers, families, and those who help them. This directory is a collaboration of the County Mental Health and Addictions Services Office, the County Mental Health and Addictions Board, and Cumberland County Affiliate of the National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI).

This Resource Guide will not detail the symptoms of mental illnesses or delve into pharmaceuticals. Plenty of resources are available that will. Booklets, fact sheets and videos are available free of charge. Ask questions of your health care providers, look at websites, call the phone numbers, and listen to speakers in your community to learn more.

MENTAL ILLNESS, SUBSTANCE USE DISORDER, AND CO-OCCURRING DISORDERS

MENTAL ILLNESS

“Mental illness” refers to disorders generally characterized by dysregulation of mood, thought, and/or behavior, as recognized by the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual, 5th edition, of the American Psychiatric Association (DSM V).

SUBSTANCE USE DISORDER

This term encompasses a continuum. "Substance use" and "misuse" of drugs usually involves drugs taken voluntarily for the purpose of their effect on the central nervous system (usually referred to as intoxication or "high"). "Substance Use Disorder" is when substance use begins to impair a person's functioning significantly enough to meet the threshold for the clinical diagnosis (mild, moderate, or severe).

CO-OCCURRING DISORDERS

The term “co-occurring disorders” refers to an individual having one or more substance use disorders and one or more psychiatric disorders at the same time. ('Dual diagnosis' and MICA – Mentally Ill/Chis are older terms for 'co-occurring disorders').

Approximately 8.9 million adults have co-occurring disorders; that is they have both a mental and substance use disorder<sup>1</sup>. Research and first-hand experiences in both the mental health and substance use disorder treatment fields have led researchers and practitioners to understand that both disorders must be addressed and treated simultaneously for people with co-occurring disorders to fully recover.

TREATMENT AND THERAPY

Most people diagnosed with mental illness can experience relief from their symptoms by actively participating in treatment or support services. Numerous treatments are available. The choice and combination of treatment and services selected depends in most cases on the severity of symptoms, the availability of options, and decisions determined by the individual, often in consultation with their health care provider and others. Most people with mental illness report that a combination of treatments, services, and supports works best to support their recovery. (nami.org)

Types of practitioners who treat the symptoms of mental illness, co-occurring disorders, and substance use disorders:

- Psychiatrist
- Psychiatric Advanced Practice Nurse (APN)
- Psychologist
- Licensed Clinical Social Worker (LCSW)
- Licensed Professional Counselor (LPC)
- Mental health counselor (CMHC)
- Licensed Marital or family therapist (LMFT)
- Licensed Clinical Alcohol and Drug Counselor (LCADC)
- Pastoral counselor

Types of treatment services that are available to assist those who are struggling with mental health, co-occurring disorders, or substance use disorders.

Outpatient consists of individual, group or a combination of both, minimum of one hour-to-six hour per week maximum.

Intensive Outpatient consists of a minimum of 9 hours of treatment interventions (individual, group, psycho-education, family education) per week.

Partial Care/Partial Hospitalization consists of a minimum of 15 hours per week, 5 days per week.

Hospitalization/Residential treatment centers usually house persons with significant psychiatric, psychological, behavioral, or substance use problems who have been unsuccessful in outpatient treatment, day treatment programs, and other non-secure environments. Hospitalizations is for those who have acute or chronic mental illness and are need stabilization.

Short Term Care Facilities (STCFs) provide acute care and adult psychiatric units in a general hospital for the short-term admission of individuals who meet the legal standards for commitment and/or require intensive treatment. All admissions to STCFs must be referred through an emergency or designated screening center. No individual otherwise eligible shall be denied admission due to inability to pay or the type of insurance held.

Supportive housing is a combination of housing and services intended as a cost-effective way to help people live more stable, productive lives.

Halfway House consists of a combination of housing and treatment intended to help the participant become acclimated to living life in recovery.

Sober Living and Oxford Houses are not formal treatment; however, they are housing in local community neighborhoods whose residents live together and agree to abide by certain rules to help them obtain, maintain, and sustain a recovery lifestyle.

Recovery Support are services to help the participant engage in recovery while living in the community (Self-Help and Recovery Support Centers, etc.).

MEDICATIONS

Medications do not cure substance use disorder or mental illness. However, they can often significantly improve symptoms and help promote recovery and are recognized as first-line treatment for most individuals. Each individual responds very differently to medications and dosages. Keeping track of the number of different medications and what time of day they should be taken is vital. It is very important to stick with the medication regimen once it has been established. Make changes only in conjunction with the psychiatrist.

MEDICATION ASSISTED THERAPY

Many people who are opioid-addicted have co-occurring mental disorders. Medically assisted treatment (MAT) is the use of medications, combined with counseling, to treat substance use disorders. Research has proven the effectiveness of MAT and addiction treatment experts endorse it. The National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA) endorses medication in treating substance use disorders, and especially combining it with counseling and other behavioral therapies. Medications that have emerged in recent decades have transformed lives. Medication Assisted Therapy is used for the treatment of opiate, alcohol, or nicotine dependency.

The most important thing you can do...

Begin keeping a written record of medications and the effects that result from taking them. The record can be used to give accurate information to hospitals and medical personnel as well as Social Security and other government agencies. Be sure to include:

- Name of medication and dosage.
- Name of doctor and affiliation (i.e. hospital) who prescribed it.
- Start and stop dates.
- What effects on the disease (good and bad) and “side effects” experienced.

FAMILY RESPONSE TO ADDICTION & MENTAL ILLNESS

Addiction and Mental illness affect the family in many ways. Consumers often rely on family members to assist with obtaining and managing medication and other treatment, obtaining public benefits, transportation and so forth. Families must develop effective coping skills and learn to navigate the complex substance use and mental health system.

Intensive Family Support Services (IFSS)

IFSS seeks to provide a focused, family-oriented educational and supportive approach to enhancing the overall functioning of families with a loved one who has a psychiatric disability. The IFSS program is available to all families in need of its services within Cumberland County and is not contingent upon a family's ability to pay for services or the loved one being in a treatment program.

What IFSS Offers:

- Education for consumers, families, and the community at-large on the mental health issues and treatment options
- Family Stabilization services
- In/out-of-home respite care
- Family Needs Assessment for clients
- Referral to mental health and community-based programs
- Family support when a loved one is hospitalized
- Family advocacy
- Family consultation
- Support groups for caregivers

IFSS services in Cumberland County are administered by the Cumberland County Guidance Center, 2038 Carmel Road, Millville, NJ 08332. Phone (856) 825-6810, ext. 256 and 286

Family-to-Family Education

This program is the essential spirit of NAMI. Experienced family members help others to learn about mental illnesses, how to deal with them, and how to advocate and help reduce stigma. Many families now involved in NAMI say taking this course is the most significant service any family can do for itself, and the best thing NAMI offers. NAMI New Jersey, N Brunswick, NJ \(naminj.org\)

The Family-to-Family course covers:

- Getting through the crisis periods
- Symptoms of the major mental illnesses and their diagnostic criteria
- Basic review of medications, side effects, and key treatment issues
- Communication skills and problem solving
- Sharing our stories and self-care
- Potential of recovery, advocacy, and combating stigma

Taught by trained family members from NAMI in a friendly, supportive environment, the course runs for 12 weeks, one class per week. All instruction and materials are free for class participants. Family-to-Family has graduated over 100,000 family members nationwide in its 12-plus year history. Call (856) 691-9234 for more information.

URGENT Mental Health Care (Formerly Early Intervention Services)

Finding your way to wellness and recovery is not always easy, and this is especially true in times of crisis. Urgent Support Services helps individuals, aged 18 years and older, who are experiencing emotional problems and need support. Individuals in crisis can visit the Urgent Support Services program rather than go to the Crisis Screening Program or the hospital. Urgent Mental Health Support Services focuses on helping you choose your best path, while building and reinforcing coping skills and support networks that will see you through this crisis and future challenges.

Crisis Intervention and Emergency Screening

The Emergency Crisis Screening and Outreach Services Center provides screening, assessment, referral, linkage, and crisis stabilization services for those experiencing a psychiatric emergency. Services are provided in either a secure environment with the availability of intensive medical supports or directly in the community in a less-restrictive, community-based setting. Our services are delivered in a culturally and linguistically competent manner recognizing the importance of trauma informed systems of care.

- Information from the family is crucial in determining the correct treatment plan during a crisis. Try to have the information readily available.
- When you call the police during a mental health crisis, inform them that it is a mental health emergency and to please send someone who has been trained in handling persons with a mental illness.
- If you are frightened or concerned about being hurt, or have been hurt, or are afraid your loved one is hurting him or herself...TELL THE SCREENER!!!
- Also, alert the screener or the police to any destruction to property and/or threats to destroy property.

The Screener may ask these questions.

Your honest answers are crucial.

- Why are you calling? What is happening?
- What behaviors are you seeing?
- What has the person said?
- Does the person have a history of mental illness?
- What are the current medications? (Keeping a list on hand is helpful)
- Is there a history of suicidal, homicidal, or destructive behavior in the past?
- Is there a history or present use of alcohol or drugs?
- Does the person have access to weapons?
- Have they been trained in self-defense?

Crisis Hotlines/Listening Services

Volunteers at these 24-hour/7-days hotlines will listen to what you have to say. If necessary, they will contact Crisis and Screening for crisis intervention.

NJ 24HR Hotline - 211	211
	www.211.org
1-800 Suicide	(800) 784-2433
1-800 273-TALK	(800) 273-8255
NJ HOPELINE	(855) 654-6735

Beginning July 16, 2022, dialing “988” will route your call to the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline

When a crisis episode occurs that includes suicide attempts or destructive behavior, you need to get emergency intervention immediately. New Jersey laws ensure that a call to 9-1-1 will result in the situation being treated as a medical emergency. The patient may be transported to a hospital for evaluation and treatment. The mobile crisis intervention team will arrive accompanied by a police car and perhaps an ambulance. The police are involved as a matter of safety. Mental illness is not a crime.

Laws provide for the involuntary hospitalization (commitment) of patients who are not willing to obtain help for life- threatening symptoms. Protections include reviews by a judge to prevent abuse of the commitment capability. Commitment is a state government function carried out by mental health professionals.

Family Members’ Checklist

- ✓ Prepare yourself for lengthy periods on the phone.
- ✓ Write it all down! Keep a notebook; create computer files.
- ✓ Get the first and last names of those you speak to.
- ✓ Find out the ward or unit pay phone numbers so you can speak directly to your loved one.
- ✓ If you haven’t heard from the hospital’s social worker within 24 hours of your loved one’s admission, you make the call!
- ✓ Your physical presence makes a difference.

- ✓ You have the right to FAX information and your observations to the hospital in the event that you are unable to reach the hospital treatment team.

Privacy and Consent

Concerned families and loved ones want open communication from hospital personnel and the timely return of phone calls. But adult patients are entitled to privacy. According to HIPAA (Federal insurance and privacy protection legislation), unless the patient signs a release form, hospital personnel are bound to keep all information confidential. (What the patient says, the diagnosis, and treatment) The system can leave the family out of the loop. The hospital staff may even be prevented from indicating that a patient has been admitted for treatment.

- A patient who signs the release upon entering a hospital or psychiatric facility will benefit from family involvement in his or her care, both short- and long-term. The family can't be informed without it!

In any event, family members need to be proactive. A new state document, Patient Advance Directive (PAD), is a major advance toward enabling the patient to indicate preferences in future crisis treatments.

CALLING 9-1-1

Calling 9-1-1 regarding a person with a mental illness is an extremely stressful act. This step should be taken only in an emergency. Not only do you have concern for the person about whom you are making the call, but you also want to make sure that you give law enforcement accurate information so that they will be able to respond effectively and safely. Try to control the volume of your voice. Although this is a very emotionally charged time, when you shout over the phone, it is difficult for the 9-1-1 Operator to understand what you are saying and the information may not be accurately received. Try to speak as calmly and clearly as possible.

Tell the 9-1-1 Operator the Following Information

- Your name and address
- The person's name and your relationship with them
- A description of what the person is wearing
- That the person has a mental illness and the diagnosis (such as Bipolar Disorder)
- Any medication being used—if use has stopped and for how long.
- Any history of violent acting out—is there a past history of fighting with police
- Do you feel threatened?
- If the person hears voices
- If the person fears someone/something?
- If there are any weapons in the house (If there are weapons, try to safely remove them before calling 9-1-1.)
- What the person is doing and saying now and where they are in the house.
- Request a CIT (Crisis Intervention Team) officer, where available, who has experience in working with people who have a mental illness.
- Request that the police come with sirens and flashers off, so as not to escalate tension and panic on the part of the person with the mental illness.

When Police Arrive

Have all the lights in the house turned on, so that all occupants can be clearly visible to the arriving officers. Have nothing in your hands if you come out of the house to meet the officers. Do not run up to the officers. They have no idea who you are and anything you may carry can possibly be interpreted as a weapon. It is essential that the officers responding to your emergency call establish a comfort zone—knowing who the person with the mental illness is, and that you, who possibly may be also agitated, are not a threat. As calmly as possible, identify yourself. Tell the officers:

- Who you are;
- The relationship you have with the person you called about
- That the person has a mental health diagnosis;
- If known, tell them:
  - The diagnosis
  - What medication is being taken
  - If the person stopped taking medication, how long ago
  - If the person becomes violent, delusional, or paranoid
  - Any history of suicide attempts
  - Any attending psychiatrist(s) and/or case manager phone number

Officers responding to a 9-1-1 emergency call are very focused when they arrive on the scene. First, they will make the scene safe for you, the person with the mental illness, and themselves. The more informed and at ease the officers are, the less likelihood that anyone will be injured or that the situation will worsen. Spend all the time that is necessary answering all of the officers' questions. Answer directly and concisely. Do not ramble. Offer any advice you deem helpful.

Officers tend to tune out persons who try to tell their entire life's story. After this is done, they will usually be able to deal with you and to answer any questions. Although it is difficult in times of crisis, being patient is essential.

CASE MANAGEMENT SERVICES

Case management is essential to outpatient care, linking the client and family to needed services. Case managers do not provide medical or psychiatric services. ICMS and PACT are programs funded by the Division of Mental Health Services to meet the needs consumers at high risk for re-hospitalization. A case manager organizes, and coordinates services and supports consumers with a combination of:

- Individual advocacy, assessment, and service planning
- Assisting with obtaining SSI or SSDI benefits
- Coordination of social services, medical, and mental health services
- Assisting with obtaining housing

- Informal counseling, including medication education
- Instruction and reinforcement of activities of daily living (ADL) skills, including hygiene, food preparation, and financial management.
- Education and support for family and friends
- The family caregiver is often the de facto “case manager.”

ICMS (Integrated Case Management Services) are provided to every patient discharged from a state or county psychiatric hospital for a minimum of 18 months post-discharge. ICMS also accepts community referrals. ICMS link clients with other services including psychiatric providers through a 24-hour/7 day on-call system.

NAMI NJ - Law Enforcement Education

DO	DON'T
REMEMBER: A person with a mental illness has the RIGHT to FAIR Treatment and police protection	ARREST a person for mentally ill behavior not criminal in nature
Continually ASSESS THE SITUATION for dangerousness	JOIN in behavior related to the person's mental illness
MAINTAIN ADEQUATE SPACE between you and the subject	STARE at the subject
BE CALM	CONFUSE the subject. One person should interact with the subject. Follow through with directions or commands
BE HELPFUL. Respond to basic needs.	TOUCH the subject unless necessary. For people with mental illness, it may cause fear and lead to violence
GIVE FIRM, CLEAR DIRECTIONS. One person should talk to the subject	GIVE MULTIPLE CHOICES. This can increase the subject's confusion
RESPOND TO FEELINGS, rather than content	WHISPER, JOKE OR LAUGH
Respond to DELUSIONS by talking about the person's feelings rather than what he or she is saying	DECEIVE the subject. Dishonesty increases fear and suspicion; the subject will likely remember it in any subsequent contacts.

“Arresting a person with mental illness for behavior that is a result of his or her illness is like arresting a person collapsed in the street having a heart attack for obstructing traffic.” -- Elaine Goodman, retired former Coordinator. NAMI NJ Law Enforcement Education Program

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

PAYING FOR TREATMENT/THERAPY

Some working people are covered under employer-provided health insurance plans, with coverage extending to their families. New Jersey's parity laws require insurance companies to cover serious mental illnesses and substance abuse in the same manner as physical illnesses for policies written in the state. Federal parity laws are less stringent.

Some providers charge on a sliding scale, in which their fees are determined by your income. Other providers may negotiate a payment plan. You need to ask.

Consider applying for "charity care" at the hospital in which acute care was given if you have no health insurance and limited resources. Re-apply annually.

You may qualify for both Medicare and Medicaid. Designation as a "Specified Low Income Medicare Beneficiary" (SLMB), will mean New Jersey will pay your premiums and co-pays for Medicare. Ask at Social Services.

*** DO NOT CANCEL any health insurance you now have until Medicaid or Medicare coverage begins! *****

PAYING FOR MEDICATIONS

Free Medication Programs

Many pharmaceutical manufacturers furnish free medications to the financially needy. Patient Assistance Programs (PAPs) can be a good interim solution while you apply for other benefits. Decisions concerning which medications are provided and which individuals are accepted into the programs are made by the various participating companies.

Eligibility varies but is based on financial need. In general, qualifications include:

- The applicant has no insurance coverage for outpatient prescription drugs.
- The applicant does not qualify for a government program like Medicaid that provides for prescription drugs.
- The applicant's income must fall within the limits established by the particular participating company.

Lower-cost medication programs

Rx4NJ is a program that connects qualified, low-income people with discount prescription drugs, direct from the pharmaceutical manufacturer. A number of patient assistance programs provide help to patients who lack prescription drug coverage and earn less than 200% of the federal poverty level (approximately $25,760 for an individual or $43,920 for a family of three). Patients will be directed to the public or private programs most likely to meet their needs. Rx4NJ helps low-income, uninsured patients.

Pharmaceutical Assistance for the Aged and Disabled (PAAD)

The Pharmaceutical Assistance to the Aged and Disabled program, the Lifeline program, and the Hearing Aid Assistance to the Aged and Disabled (HAAAD) program are three State programs with similar eligibility guidelines.

You may be eligible for PAAD if you meet the following requirements:

- A New Jersey resident;
- 65 years of age or older or 18 years of age or older and receiving Social Security Title II Disability benefits;

- Annual income for 2021 of less than $28,769 if single or less than $35,270 if married;
- Medicare-eligible PAAD beneficiaries are also required to enroll in a Medicare Part D Prescription Drug Plan in New Jersey.

Private Plan Coverage

The Temporary Disability Benefits Law allows employers the option of choosing to establish a private plan for the payment of temporary disability benefits in place of paying benefits under the State Plan. All private plans must be approved by the Division of Temporary Disability Insurance before they become effective.

Neither the employer, nor their workers are required to contribute to the State's Temporary Disability Insurance Trust Fund while the private plan remains in existence. The cost to the worker for the private plan cannot be more than it would be under State Plan.

DISABILITY INCOME-SOCIAL SECURITY PROGRAMS, MEDICAID/MEDICARE, STATE DISABILITY PAYMENTS

If you are currently or recently employed, you may be eligible for temporary disability insurance (TDI) if you are temporarily unable to work due to illness. Check with your human resources dept. or Employee Assistance Program (EAP). Money has been deducted from your paycheck and matched by your employer to pay for this program.

SOCIAL SECURITY DISABILITY INCOME/SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME SSDI AND SSI

The Social Security and Supplemental Security Income disability programs are the largest of several Federal programs that provide assistance to people with disabilities. While these two programs are different in many ways, both are administered by the Social Security Administration and only individuals who have a disability.

Social Security Disability Insurance pays benefits to you and certain members of your family if you are "insured," meaning that you worked long enough and paid Social Security taxes.

Supplemental Security Income pays benefits based on financial need.

Deciding which of the two Social Security programs to apply for initially depends upon the length of time you've worked. Please note, describing the whole SSA system is beyond the scope of this directory. There are many booklets, Internet information and helpful people at the SSA to assist you.

If Social Security denies your application, immediately begin the appeals process at: <https://secure.ssa.gov/apps6z/iAppeals/ap001.jsp>

These legal documents describe what services you want if an illness renders you unable to make decisions about your care. Share your instructions with your family, health care providers and other advocates. Download advance directive forms at www.partnershipforcaring.com

Representative Payee

The representative payee must use the benefits exclusively for the care and well-being of the beneficiary, and file periodic accounting reports with Social Security.

Conservatorship and Guardianship

Conservatorship is given to someone to protect and manage the financial affairs and/or another person's daily life. A guardianship is a court action that appoints someone to make personal decisions for a ward. Both processes involve a petition to the local court, an open court hearing and judicial decision.

Special Needs Trusts

Government benefits such as SSI and Medicaid may be affected if, for instance, a recipient inherits money directly. Families concerned about protecting their loved one's benefits might research establishing this type of trust. Additional to government benefits for basic needs, funds from the trust could pay for a consumer's personal expenses such as vacations, car service, incidental medical or dental expenses and the like. Your attorney should be well versed in Medicaid and disability law to protect benefits.
